ALERT

ENGINEERING TEAM

Unexploded World War 2 bombs have been discovered in the sea between the mainland and the island on the route the underground tunnels will take. What should you do?

- Do you need to replot your route?
- How long can you delay before there are issues?

ALERT

FINANCE TEAM

Unexploded World War 2 bombs have been discovered in the sea between the mainland and the island on the route the underground tunnels will take. It will cost the army £500,000 to dismantle them safely – what should you do?

- Consider how you can reallocate funds.

ALERT

CUSTOMER FACING TEAM

Unexploded World War 2 bombs have been discovered in the sea between the mainland and the island on the route the underground tunnels will take. You are required to deliver a press release highlighting in what you're doing to alleviate the problem. You'll need to choose your messaging wisely.

- Think about how you can reassure your customers.